Read for meaning.

A method for each of the six parts, from short notices to the open cloze.

Six parts · 45 minutes · 32 questions

THE PAPER AT A GLANCE

No. 02

Six parts, one pencil, no extra time

6
parts, from short notices to long texts

45
minutes for the whole paper

32
questions, one mark each

0
extra minutes to copy answers

Write straight onto the answer sheet. A wrong answer loses nothing, so never leave a gap.

Same idea, different words.

The right answer says what the text says, in other words. Wrong answers often copy words straight from the text.

What is this text for?

1. Decide what it is: a sign, a label, a message, an advert.
2. Ask why it was written: to warn, inform, sell or forbid?
3. Say the message to yourself in your own words.
4. Find the option with the same meaning, not the same words.
5. Check: does the option say more than the text does?

Small words, big difference

don't have to
it isn't necessary

mustn't
don't do it

might, may possible, not certain

No parking
No + -ing: you can't do it here

PART 2 · 5 QUESTIONS · MATCHING

No. 05

Three needs, one text

1. Underline the three things each person wants.
2. Scan the eight texts for each need, said in other words.
3. Choose the only text that matches all three.
4. Underline the proof in that text.
5. Three texts are left over. That's normal.

EXAMPLE

Lucía wants a course that is cheap, at the weekend and outdoors.

1 · cheap 2 · weekend 3 · outdoors

A text that matches two out of three is a trap.

PART 3 · 5 QUESTIONS · ONE LONG TEXT

No. 06

Feelings, opinions, purpose

1. Read the whole text quickly first.
2. Underline the key words in each question.
3. Find the place in the text. Questions follow its order.
4. Answer in your own words, then choose A, B, C or D.
5. Check why the other three are wrong.

THE QUESTIONS ASK

How did the writer feel?

What does she think about…?

Why did he do this?

The last question is usually about the text as a whole.

PART 4 · 5 QUESTIONS · GAPPED TEXT

No. 07

Follow the links

1. Read the main text. What is each paragraph about?
2. Read sentences A to H.
3. Read before AND after each gap.
4. Check the topic, the tense, singular or plural.
5. Read the finished text. Three sentences are extra.

Words that point

this that these it them one there

Words that link

however instead too another otherwise

PART 5 · 6 QUESTIONS · CHOOSE THE WORD

No. 08

Words that go together

1. Read the title and the whole text first.
2. Look at the word after the gap. It is often a preposition.
3. Try all four options in the gap.
4. Choose the one that fits the meaning AND the grammar.
5. Read the text again with your answers in it.

Learn them in pairs

have a break

make a decision

take a photo

spend time

grow up

keen on interested in afraid of

depend on

find out

PART 6 · 6 QUESTIONS · WRITE ONE WORD

No. 09

The small words matter

1. Read the whole text first, without filling the gaps.
2. Ask: what kind of word is missing?
3. Read carefully on both sides of the gap.
4. Write one word only, and spell it correctly.
5. Read it again: does every sentence make sense?

THE USUAL ANSWERS

who	which
where	than
the · a	was · been
in · on · at	although

Relative pronouns, articles, auxiliaries, prepositions, linkers.

MANAGING TIME

No. 10

A plan for 45 minutes

PART 1	PART 2	PART 3	PART 4	PART 5	PART 6
6′	9′	9′	9′	6′	6′

About 6 minutes for the short tasks (Parts 1, 5, 6) and 9 minutes for the long texts (Parts 2, 3, 4). A suggested plan, not a rule.

Stuck? Make your best guess, mark it, move on, and come back at the end.

Read the whole text. Then the question. Then decide.

Good luck in the exam.